EMBROIDERY DETAIL & OUTLINE GUIDE

Reference-based visual guide for sampling and embroidery placement

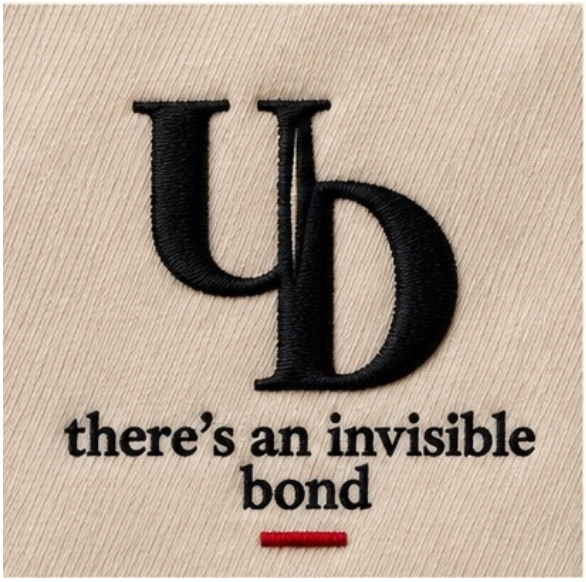

Design elements covered: UD chest monogram; front quote and red underline; black sleeve star; back reaching-hands illustration; single continuous red connecting thread.

Important production note: This PDF documents the visible reference and provides outline-style tracing aids. It is not a digitized embroidery machine file (DST/EXP/PES). A digitizer must redraw/clean the outlines, define stitch types, underlay, density, trims and color stops, then test-sew on the actual fabric.

1. Front placement — logo, quote & underline

Use the original reference photo as the visual target. Keep the chest mark compact and the quote directly beneath it.

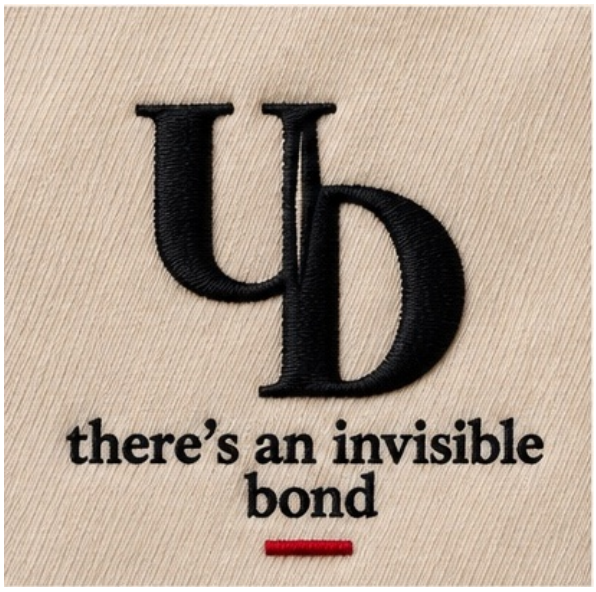

Element	Visual specification
UD monogram	Black thread, dense satin/fill stitching where appropriate; preserve the overlapping U/D letterform and clean internal negative spaces.
Quote	“there’s an invisible bond” in black. Keep the line breaks and small serif look consistent with the reference; small lettering needs a test sew for legibility.
Red underline	One short red stitched bar centered below the quote. Use a compact satin stitch or closely spaced straight stitches.

Placement dimensions visible in previous concept sheets are estimates only. Confirm chest position from the neck rib/shoulder seam on a physical sample before bulk production.

2. Chest embroidery — close-up & tracing aid

The outline panel is edge-enhanced from the supplied image to help a digitizer trace the shapes. Check the original crop alongside it.

Outline cleanup checklist

- Preserve the exact UD letter silhouette and counters.
- Remove fabric weave/noise from the final vector trace.
- Keep the quote as editable lettering until font and size are approved.
- Confirm the red underline is separate from the quote lettering and uses red thread only.

3. Sleeve star — embroidery detail

Small single-color star placed near the sleeve hem, matching the reference.

Thread / stitch guidance: black thread; satin stitch for the star arms or a compact fill depending on final size. Keep the tips sharp but not so narrow that stitches pull out. Stabilize the sleeve and test for puckering.

4. Back artwork — both hands and one connecting thread

Match the supplied hand illustration and the single red thread path. Avoid extra strands, wrist loops, or duplicate thread paths.

RIGHT HAND DETAIL

Back artwork notes

• Hand contours: black/dark charcoal outlines with fine sketch details; prioritize the outer silhouette, finger separation and major palm creases.

• Shading: use sparse directional stitch lines rather than dense fills, to retain the pencil-drawn look and avoid a stiff patch.

• Use jump stitches only where needed; trim and restart cleanly if the digitizing path requires it.

5. Back illustration — outline tracing aids

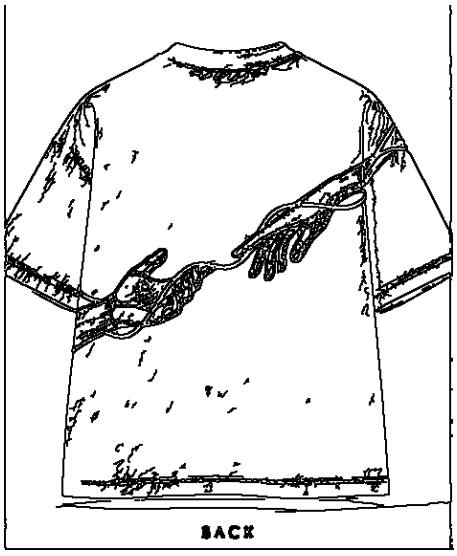

These contrast-enhanced panels are intended as tracing references. Final stitch paths should be cleaned into smooth vector outlines by the embroidery digitizer.

Do not use the raw edge-detection image as a machine stitch file: it contains fabric texture and photo noise. The digitizer should simplify the linework, preserve anatomy and keep stitch lengths appropriate for jersey knit.

6. Suggested embroidery build & sampling checklist

Use this page with your manufacturer to agree the technical settings before production.

Area	Suggested approach	Confirm in sample
UD logo	Satin/fill as suitable for letter widths; black thread.	Letter counters, edge sharpness, no fabric show-through.
Quote	Small lettering; satin/bean or digitizer-approved lettering stitch.	Readability at actual size; line spacing.
Sleeve star	Compact satin or fill; black thread.	Point definition, sleeve distortion, placement near hem.
Hand outlines	Running stitch / bean stitch for fine contours; limited shading.	Line continuity, finger detail, puckering.
Red thread	One red path, satin or triple-run depending on visual thickness.	No duplicated path, smooth curves, clean starts/ends.
Garment	Use suitable cutaway/soft stabilizer for knit; hoop without stretching.	Wash test, hand feel, no rippling or tunneling.

Files to request from the digitizer: editable vector artwork (AI/SVG/PDF), stitch file for the specific machine (DST/EXP/PES as requested), color-stop sheet, stitch count, final dimensions, and a photo of the approved sew-out.

Color key: black thread — UD logo, quote, star and hand outlines; red thread — underline and the single connecting thread. Fabric base — warm ivory/cream.
